

Can Without Sugar

Some people became indignant over the present allotment of sugar for canning and say they will not can fruit. This is a deplorable spirit and is more spiteful to those guilty, than to anyone else. However, were there a great lot of such people our task of winning the war would be much greater. The government advises the canning of all fruits, juices and fruit pulps without sugar. Big factories do this every year. Then, in the winter when the new sugar crop is available, jams jellies and preserves can be made, and fruit sweetened when used. Fruit canned in such a manner retains the fresh fruit flavor much better than when canned in syrup. No one should object to adopting this plan of canning. It has always been the custom in many localities and no doubt will be quite popular with Utah people and continued after the war. Can fruit, can vegetables, can anything that will help yourself or your country in any way.

ALLIES AVERT CRISIS

Mexico Modifies Confiscatory Oil Tax Decree.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—The threatened crisis in the relations of Mexico with the Entente allies and the United States apparently has been averted by a modification of the new Mexican oil tax decree by President Carranza.

It was learned today that on August 12 Carranza in effect cancelled provisions of the decree of July 31 under which undeveloped oil lands might be seized by the Mexican government upon failure of their owners to make declarations and submit to what they regarded as excessive taxation.

Several French army officers were in Ogden a short time yesterday afternoon while en route to an eastern military camp. Among the number were Major L. C. Ekenfelder, Lieutenant Lozier, Lieutenant R. H. Rignier and Sergeant E. Weill.

The officers have been conducting courses in grenade throwing at various western military camps. They say the American boys learn the art of throwing the explosives very quickly, being aided by the national game of baseball.

Courses have been given at Camp Kearny and Camp Fremont. The instructors have seen heavy fighting on the western front and say the men are much encouraged since the entrance of America into the war.

ENTENTE FORCES KEEPING BUSY

Troops Move Southward From Archangel and Are Joined by Russians.

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 16.—The first connected story on the advance of the entente forces southward from Archangel, north Russia, is given in a special dispatch to the Dusseldorf Nachrichten from Stockholm.

The dispatch which is dated August 14, says: "Last Monday 6000 entente troops, reinforced by 3000 Russians, assembled at Archangel and the same night the order was given to proceed southward. Three thousand Russians embarked on eleven river steamers and a number of barges towed by tugs, the destination of which was Kottlas on the Dvina river. The remainder of the troops marched along the Archangel-Vologda railway with orders to halt at Trusanovskaya, 70 miles south of Archangel.

"The flotilla was first fired upon from both river banks near Kakutskaya, and a half mile further on encountered a barricade of sunken boats, which impeded further progress. Here the troops were compelled to land to wait for fresh orders. Nor did the land troops reach their goal. They encountered their first resistance by the soviet troops at the point where the Log river bisects the railway. The entente forces halted here. This movement seemed a feat and the main operation apparently is on the Dvina river.

"Monday night there arrived at Solombolsk near Archangel, four transports from which an American contingent was transferred directly to barges in the mouth of the river without touching at Archangel.

"Admiral Kemp, (British) on Monday issued a proclamation to the Russians saying that the Moscow rulers had betrayed Russia to the Kaiser, who now was sending troops to destroy the liberty gained by the expenditure of much blood."

M. H. Lund, assistant adjutant-general. The men must leave Salt Lake on either August 27 or 28. The men are required to report at Camp Peary not later than September 1 for training. Sixteen men will represent the national guard of Utah.

The government will pay all expenses both going and coming, and the men are assured exceptional experience, as the crack rifle shots of the national army will be on hand at Camp Peary from all parts of the country. Men who desire to make this trip may get in touch with either Major Lund or the various recruiting offices of the national guard.

WAR PROFITEERS ARE NUMEROUS

Most of Them in Food Production and Distribution, Cotton, Wool and Minerals.

ENORMOUS PROFITS

Oil and Lumber Producers, Meat Packers, Flour Millers and Cannerymen at Top.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—War profiteers in 1917 were most numerous in business devoted to food production and distribution, cotton and woolen manufacturing and dealing, coal mining, iron, copper, aluminum and other metal production and oil production and distribution, according to a treasury analysis of income tax returns.

In addition thousands of small concerns in a great variety of classifications made profits ranging from 100 to 2000 per cent above their normal pre-war profits which even then were considered high.

In citing certain industries as containing the largest percentage of profiteers, the treasury has made it clear that not all individual businesses in these groups have gathered in swollen earnings. This is true particularly of coal operators, some of whom made enormous profits while others made barely enough to pay justified dividends.

With few exceptions, manufacturers of clothing and shoes reported big profits. This was true of most concerns holding government contracts.

Lumber production, stimulated by the sudden enormous demand from cantonments and other government needs netted saw mill and lumber dealers profits several times above those of normal years.

Oil producers made enormous profits which they claimed were justified by the rapid depreciation of properties and the extra financial hazard of their business.

Meat packers, flour millers and cannerymen, stood at the top of the list of food producers, according to income returns. Farmers also made money heavily last year but not enough of their returns have been analyzed to justify a general statement of their profits, officials say.

Profiteering was by no means confined to big business. Small scale producers in thousands of cases reported profits equal to the aggregate of from five to ten years earnings before the United States entered the war.
